

YVONNE ADELE – TESTIMONIALS

"Let's face it, most people hate brain storming sessions. No-one seems to participate other than the frustrated "pick me sir" hangover from your school days. But this one was different. Without us knowing it, and without any effort, we were thinking. A well worn phrase I know, but we were indeed "stepping outside the square". I would thoroughly recommend this as a unique brainstorming session - introducing techniques and mechanisms that can be easily adapted to create an environment of fresh ideas."

Director of Finance & Operations, ASBA

"Our group will never look at a problem in quite the same way. The feedback showed that they are now able to easily come up with creative solutions, just by following the easy steps you walked them through."
