

Have as many speakers as you like but

LISA

is the only one to open YOUR Conference

OVERVIEW

“The Conference Opener is the most important conference presentation – it sets the stage for conference success. People need to be engaged and connected from the start. The right chemistry for your conference is essential, and it doesn’t just happen. Set the scene, prime the people, entertain, energise and have them ready to receive from the word go.”

FEATURE

“Lisa McInnes-Smith’s presentation style is unique. In an atmosphere of fun and excitement Lisa’s Conference Opener reaches deep into the hearts and minds of her audience and actually changes the chemistry – she stimulates their synoptic region – and it changes the atmosphere of the room. The result – an audience that is excited, involved, engaged and committed for what is to follow. Your audience is ready to receive, the scene is set and your conference is primed for success.”
